Child Development Research
www.csi.cuny.edu

The College of Staten Island is committed to our community, and we welcome you to take part in our research programs that help us understand how children learn and grow. We invite you to our child-friendly spaces on the CSI campus where children interact one-on-one with members of the research team, led by experts in their fields.

Your child can provide answers to important questions about human development.

The Child Development Lab works with children five months to four years old, studying cognitive and motor development by examining how they navigate their environment on specially designed playground equipment. Studies provide insight into sibling relationships and early language development, and range from 15 minutes to one hour. Participants will receive a thank you gift and a summary report of their child's study.

For more information, contact Dr. Sarah Berger at 718.982.3770 or childlab@csi.cuny.edu.

The Language Development Lab works with children five to ten years old. The Lab specializes in working with typically developing children, children within the autism spectrum, and children with language impairments. The program offers free speech and hearing screenings. Studies typically involve multiple sessions and extend over several weeks or months, based upon your child's and your unique needs and circumstances. Children are generously compensated for their time.

For more information, contact Dr. Patricia Brooks at 718.982.3793 or patricia.brooks@csi.cuny.edu.
