

Global Human Rights Today Colloquium Series :

Human Rights in China

Thursday, November 19, 2015

12:20pm-1:30pm

Center for the Arts, Recital Hall (1P)

Teng Biao, Chinese human rights lawyer; visiting scholar, NYU School of Law

Dr. Teng Biao is an academic lawyer and a human rights activist. He was formerly a Lecturer in the China University of Political Science and Law, a visiting Fellow at Harvard Law School, Yale Law School, and the Chinese University of Hong Kong. Since 2003, Teng has provided counsel in numerous human rights cases, including those of rural rights advocate Chen Guangcheng, rights defender Hu Jia, the religious freedom case of Falungong, and numerous death penalty cases. He co-founded “Open Constitution Initiative” (Gongmeng) and is also the Founder and President of China Against the Death Penalty, Beijing. His research interest includes human rights, Constitutionalism, criminal justice, legal theory, democratic theory, transitional justice and social movement.

This event is sponsored by the Center for International Service, International Studies; Political Science and Global Affairs and Scholar At Risk Network. This is a CC CLUE event.

Center for International Service, College of Staten Island/CUNY
2800 Victory Boulevard, Staten Island, NY 10314 | 718-982-2100 | www.csi.cuny.edu/international

