

CSI's very own Ava Chin is the author of the award-winning Eating Wildly: Foraging for Life, Love, and the Perfect Meal (Simon & Schuster, 2014) and the former Urban Forager columnist for The New York Times (2009-2013). She has written for the Los Angeles Times Sunday Magazine, Saveur, Marie Claire, The Village Voice, and SPIN. She is the recipient of grants and fellowships from the New York Public Library's Cullman Center for Scholars & Writers, the Fulbright U.S. Scholar program, the New York Foundation for the Arts (NYFA), the Asian American Writers' Workshop, and New York Institute for Humanities at New York University. She holds a PhD from the University of Southern California, and an MA from the Writing Seminars at Johns Hopkins University. She is an Associate Professor of Creative Nonfiction and Journalism at CUNY.

Do you like to write?

Come share your poems, stories, and essays with peers and creative writing faculty at this informal workshop!

A COMMUNITY WORKSHOP All Writers Welcome

Tuesday, March 12, 2019
Club Hours: 2:30pm – 4:30pm
Bldg. 2S, Room 218

Welcome guest instructor: Ava Chin

Sponsored by the Department of English

The English Department offers an array of creative writing workshops in fiction, poetry, creative nonfiction, and playwriting. Emerging writers learn to strengthen their writing voices, hone their literary skills, and constructively critique each other's work in the safety of the workshop environment.

Come get to know us!

Just bring a single copy of the work you want discussed to the workshop! Questions? Contact Cate Marvin at catemarvin@gmail.com.

