CSI Tech Incubator

Staten Island Software Engineering

Meetup

Be a part of a growing tech community on Staten Island. The CSI Tech Incubator is hosting monthly software engineering meetups with the mission of building a community focused on sharing and learning new computer programming skills.

Each meetup will consist of a lightning talk, followed by an in-depth discussion and networking session. Meetups are open to anyone interested in software engineering.

We want to hear from you! Please give us your feedback and share your interests. Fill out the survey so that we can tailor future meetups just for you.
